3. Upload Submission
4. Enter Metadata
5. Confirmation and Next Steps

This is a step-by-step guide that walks through the process an author takes to submit a work for review and publication in your journal. This guide is provided so that you can understand how your various settings, particularly those edited in the Submission Guidelines section, are represented to your submitting authors. Authors will primarily reach this process through the "Submissions" page of your journal's homepage.

1. Registration

In order to submit your work, access the full content of some journals, or apply to be a reviewer, you will need to register an account with OJS and select roles for your desired journal(s). If you do not already have an account with OJS, you will be directed to the Registration page when you attempt to make a submission. You can also register at any time by selecting "Register" on the upper right corner of all OJS pages. The registration page will ask you for basic information as displayed below:

Profile

In order to complete registration, you will be asked to agree to our privacy statement and subscribe to notifications for this journal. You can also request to assign yourself the role of reviewer at this stage. all three of these check boxes are optional, and you can register regardless of your answer.

Yes, I agree to have my data collected and stored according to the privacy statement.

Yes, I would like to be notified of new publications and announcements.

Would you be willing to review submissions to this journal?

Yes, request the Reviewer role.

If you select the "Register" on the upper right corner of the list of all IU Open Journals, you will be able to assign yourself roles for multiple journals at once. Select the boxes and finish registration to request the roles for each journal.

Journal of the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning Request the following roles.

If you are unclear about your role in a journal, or wish to request different roles at any other time, you can access these check boxes once again from your profile page. Select "View Profile" under your username to access your profile and view/select your roles.

You will be directed to your Profile page. Select the Roles tab to view what roles you currently have with a journal, and check the boxes to request new roles. Select the blue "Register with other journals" box to request roles in different journals.

Once you are registered, you can navigate back to the "Submissions" page of your journal's homepage.

2. Start

You can edit these Submission Requirements at the "Submission Preparation Checklist" section of the "Submissions" tab under "Workflow Settings" (the instructional wiki page is here). The Privacy Statement can also be edited on this "Submissions" page (the instructional wiki page is here).

Submission Requirements

You must read and acknowledge that you've completed the requirements below before proceeding.

- The submission has not been previously published, nor is it before another journal for consideration (or an explanation has been provided in Comments to the Editor).
- The submission file is in OpenOffice, Microsoft Word, or RTF document file format.
- Where available, URLs for the references have been provided.
- The text is single-spaced; uses a 12-point font; employs italics, rather than underlining (except with URL addresses); and all illustrations, figures, and tables are placed within the text at the appropriate points, rather than at the end.
- The text adheres to the stylistic and bibliographic requirements outlined in the Author Guidelines.

Privacy Statement

The names and email addresses entered in this journal site will be used exclusively for the stated purposes of this journal and will not be made available for any other purpose or to any other party.

3. Upload Submission

Step two will ask your authors to submit any and all relevant materials, split by article component. The defaults for these components are "Article Text" and "Other". New Components can be managed or added under the "Components" tab under "Workflow Settings", with instructional wiki page here. Authors will then review the materials they have submitted and be asked to confirm their submission before moving on to the next step.

Before finishing Step 3, the submitting author will be asked to submit the metadata your journal requires. You should have at least the keywords and references fields enabled. You can establish the standards and requirements for submission metadata at the "Submission Metadata" section of the "Submissions" tab under Workflow Settings (the instructional wiki page is here).

Submission Metadata

These specifications are based on the Dublin Core metadata set, an international standard used to describe journal content.

6. Next Steps

Here is the author's dashboard. They will be unable to edit any of the files they submitted, but they will be able to edit and add discussions that will be visible to their article's editor, reviewer, and the journal manager. From this dashboard, they can access the various materials, reviews, and edits of their works.
