This is a step-by-step guide that walks through the process an author takes to submit a work for review and publication in your journal. This guide is provided so that you can understand how your various settings, particularly those edited in the Submission Guidelines section, are represented to your submitting authors. Authors will primarily reach this process through the "Submissions" page of your journal's homepage.

1. Registration

In order to submit your work, access the full content of some journals, or apply to be a reviewer, you will need to register an account with OJS and select roles for your desired journal(s). If you do not already have an account with OJS, you will be directed to the Registration page when you attempt to make a submission. You can also register at any time by selecting "Register" on the upper right corner of all OJS pages. The registration page will ask you for basic information as displayed below:

In order to complete registration, you will be asked to agree to our privacy statement and subscribe to notifications for this journal. You can also request to assign yourself the role of reviewer at this stage. all three of these check boxes are optional, and you can register regardless of your answer.

Yes, I agree to have my data collected and stored according to the privacy statement.

Yes, I would like to be notified of new publications and announcements.

Would you be willing to review submissions to this journal?

Yes, request the Reviewer role.

If you are unclear about your role in a journal, or wish to request different roles at any other time, you can access these check boxes once again from your profile page. Select "View Profile" under your username to access your profile and view/select your roles.

You will be directed to your Profile page. Select the Roles tab to view what roles you currently have with a journal, and check the boxes to request new roles. Select the blue "Register with other journals" box to request roles in different journals.

Once you are registered, you can navigate back to the "Submissions" page of your journal's homepage.

2. Start

Submission Requirements

You must read and acknowledge that you've completed the requirements below before proceeding.

- The submission has not been previously published, nor is it before another journal for consideration (or an explanation has been provided in Comments to the Editor).
- The submission file is in OpenOffice, Microsoft Word, or RTF document file format.
- Where available, URLs for the references have been provided.
- The text is single-spaced; uses a 12-point font; employs italics, rather than underlining (except with URL addresses); and all illustrations, figures, and tables are placed within the text at the appropriate points, rather than at the end.
- The text adheres to the stylistic and bibliographic requirements outlined in the Author Guidelines.

3. Upload Submission

Step two will ask your authors to submit any and all relevant materials, split by article component. The defaults for these components are "Article Text" and "Other". New Components can be managed or added under the "Components" tab under "Workflow Settings", with instructional wiki page here. Authors will then review the materials they have submitted and be asked to confirm their submission before moving on to the next step.

Submission complete

Thank you for your interest in publishing with Test Journal.

What Happens Next?

The journal has been notified of your submission, and you've been emailed a confirmation for your records. Once the editor has reviewed the submission, they will contact you.

For now, you can:

- Review this submission
- Create a new submission
- Return to your dashboard

6. Next Steps

Here is the author's dashboard. They will be unable to edit any of the files they submitted, but they will be able to edit and add discussions that will be visible to their article's editor, reviewer, and the journal manager. From this dashboard, they can access the various materials, reviews, and edits of their works.
